All submissions will undergo a double blind review process. Submissions can be made as three-page extended abstracts or as full papers (up to 5000 words). If accepted, the authors will have the option to include only a summary of their paper in the conference proceedings. The authors shall retain copyright ownership. Please see the details below. At least one author of each accepted submission must register for the conference by June 5, 2023 @ 11:59 PM (PDT).

KEY DATES:

January 30, 2023: Online submission system opens at www.ihita.org/submit

April 30, 2023 @ 11:59 PM (PDT): Submissions due

May 15, 2023: Notification with reviewer comments

June 5, 2023 @ 11:59 PM (PDT): Revised final submission for inclusion in the conference proceedings due – via www.ihita.org/submit

Track 1: Full Paper (minimum 2500 words excluding references) -- The primary objective of this track is to provide a forum for reporting "state-of-the-art" research in hospitality technology which focuses on innovative developments in concepts, models, theories, and/or applicability.

Track 2: Extended Abstract (minimum 500 words, not to exceed 3 pages excluding references) – This track is intended to encourage the presentation of research studies that may not yet be fully completed but may be of interest to the hospitality technology community. Both conceptual and empirical studies on "research in progress" would fit this track. However, authors who want to share their completed research projects in abstract form are welcomed to submit to this track.

All details of the conference, including author guidelines are available on the iHITA website at: www.ihita.org/cfp. For inquiries about the conference please email us at: info@ihita.org
